SEE Tells Problem To Council

Students for Excellence in Education (SEE) are expected to present Student Council today a plan to inform the public of the current state-wide financial problem in higher education.

Following a special session of council on Monday the legislative group decided to support the goals of SEE but left any action on the money crisis up to the group.

SEE met yesterday to discuss either a student referendum or a massive petition drive. If SEE decides to adopt one plan over the other, council is expected to endorse it.

The special election would have to be called by a two-thirds majority of Student Council.

The last student referendum was held Dec. 11-12, 1963, on the College Union proposal.

Council also will hear a presentation from Rich Corby, senior representative.

Corby will introduce a resolution which attempts to establish class government on the freshman level.

Originally, the bill was to be introduced last week, but the bill was not in completed form.

The bill will reestablish class governments which were abolished by council June 7, 1963.

On Feb. 28, 1963, Bob Pisano, ASB president, then sophomore representative, suggested that special consideration be given to the freshman class.

"Major purpose of establishing the freshman class government," according to Corby, "is to capture the enthusiasm of freshmen after their return from Freshman Camp."

Another item on council's agenda is a bill to establish an ASB Information Committee.

Bill Clark, sophomore representative, author of the bill, explained that the purpose is "to collect and interpret information as requested by council or ASB executive officers."

Rho Epsilon Sets Dinner Meeting Tomorrow Night

"Shopping Center Development" will be discussed at tomorrow night's Rho Epsilon, real estate fraternity, dinner meeting at Garden City Hofbrau at 6 p.m.

Speaker for the evening is Charles L. Gunn, San Jose realtor specializing in commercial properties.

The speech, which begins at 7 p.m., will be preceded by a dinner hour during which a short business meeting will be held.

Delegation Represents UAR At Claremont Model U.N.

The SJS delegation representing the United Arab Republic flew to Claremont this morning to participate in the Model United Nations at Claremont College.

Claremont will host "in excess of 100 school delegations," according to Dr. Alden Voth, SJS faculty adviser for the project.

The delegation attended a regional MUN conference March 27 at Stanford University and staged a walkout during the General Assembly.

Training for the project began last year when prospective delegates enrolled in a two-unit political science course designed to prepare them for the project. Twelve of these students were selected to complete training this semester in a one-unit course.

This afternoon the members will

BREATH OF SPRING—The Rule, Engineering Division magazine, adds a touch of spring to its April issue with Rulemate Karen Gottschall. The SJS drama major enjoys the air of freshness with the likes of 37-25-37. Rule is on sale today, tomorrow and Friday in front of the Engineering Building. The magazine sells for 25 cents.

SPUR Releases Stand On Campaign Issues

SPUR (Service-Progress-Unity-Responsibility), SJS' oldest political party announced its platform this morning for the upcoming ASB elections April 28-29.

In a joint statement issued by Frank Bardsley, party chairman and John Hendricks, SPUR presidential candidate, the party's platform planks were outlined.

SPUR's platform includes 13 planks with seven major items. The party promises to oppose the proposed state college tuition fee through student and faculty cooperation. This opposition would be gathered on the local as well as state level.

APPROVED HOUSING
Second major item concerns college approved housing. The platform supports a complete relaxation of the parietal rule and establishment of one-semester contracts.

"SPUR is also in favor of retaining the voluntary meal card system which is now in effect in the six college dorms," Hendricks said.

The cultural plank supports expansion of the Scholar in Residence program, Spartan Lecture Program, Spartan Programs and symposiums like the recent Sangha Club symposium.

SPARTAN DAILY
Fourth major item of SPUR's platform is an expanded intramural program at SJS.

SPUR also calls for a re-

Classic Film Shows Twice

"The Keeper of Promises" will be the feature of today's Classic Film at 3:30 p.m. and 7 p.m. in TH55.

The film is Anselmo Duarte's study of human motivation. It traces the fate of an unselfish man in a world that refuses to care.

Today's preliminary is "Moonbird." Admission is free and open to the college community only. Sponsors are Spartan Programs Committee and the A-V Service Center.

Rollin E. Buckman, associate professor of speech, is coordinator of the series.

Officer Training Extends Program For Candidates

The Air Force announced yesterday that eligibility for the two year officer training program has been extended to all students with two academic years remaining, including graduate work.

As a prerequisite to the two year program, the candidates must attend and successfully complete a six week field training course during the summer before their enrollment.

Under terms of the program the cadet will be paid $40 a month while attending school.

According to Maj. Joe F. Tarpoley, professor of aerospace studies, applications are now available for the two six-week training sessions this summer, beginning June 13 and Aug. 1.

Feud Forces Cancellation Of Weekend Track Meet

By ART SIMBURG

Sports Editor

The sizzling feud between the Amateur Athletic Union and the U.S. Track and Field Federation for control of amateur athletics apparently reached its boiling point yesterday when it forced SJS to abruptly cancel Saturday's SJS-Santa Clara Youth Village track meet.

In place of the meet, the Spartan varsity will compete against the freshman team Friday at 2 p.m. and Tom Smith may run the 440.

"This might be the blow-up that clears the sky," said SJS track coach Bud Winter, "but it is a shame we have to throw rocks at our own flesh and blood."

SJS ATHLETES

Winter and Youth Village coach Mike Ryan organized the Youth Village team, which consists primarily of SJS athletes. Ironically, Winter will not be allowed to enter his athletes in competition against individuals who achieved their fame under his guidance at SJS.

The Federation controls most of the college teams whereas the AAU controls most of the club teams. This is the first cancellation due to the feud in U.S. track history.

Winter suggested to AAU Executive Secretary Don Hull that President Johnson intervene, but no move has been made as yet.

Winter received a telegram from Tom Mellis, chairman of the Pacific Association Registration Committee which said:

"We are shocked to learn that your meet which heretofore has always been a closed invitational track meet for California athletes now has a USTFF sanction for the first time."

"Under the established rule of the AAU, amateur athletes cannot compete under the sanction of an unorganized organization such as USTFF.

"We therefore must advise you that unless Federation sanction is not accepted you have made it impossible for AAU athletes to compete in your meet."

'DISAPPOINTING'

SJS Athletic Director Bob Bronzan commented, "The USTFF has granted its sanction for the meet. Failure by the AAU to grant its sanction to the meet and thereby prohibiting the Santa Clara Youth Village to compete in a regularly scheduled dual track and field contest is extremely disappointing to our institution, to all athletes and to our loyal track and field fans."

"SJS remains ready to participate in the scheduled contest with either the USTFF sanction or joint USTFF-AAU sanction."

Friday's meet will give the track team an opportunity to experiment with several of the NCAA events which are normally not included in a dual meet. Ken Shackelford will run the 400 meter hurdles for the first time this season and Phil Darnall and Dave Lower will attempt to meet qualifying times in the steeplechase.

Dorm Controversy Erupts Over Food

By VICKI REED

Short and long-run goals are clashing headlong in a current controversy among dorm residents, the Inter-Dorm Council (IDC) and housing, business and cafeteria administrators.

The crux of the problem lies in plans to withdraw the experimental "optional" food service program at the end of the Spring semester.

The infant program will be terminated at the end of its second semester because "... it hasn't worked" according to Robert Barron of the Housing Department.

'POOR VARIETY'

Moulder Hall resident Douglas Willbanks claims "only 12 students originally elected to sell their food service tickets, but now 50 have sold them because of the poor variety and quality of food."

Dante Symposium In Concert Hall

A "Symposium on Dante" will take place this morning at 10:30 in Concert Hall.

The discussion will commemorate seven centuries of Dante's fame. Vice-President William J. Dusel, Dr. Louis A. Waters, Bonda Gay Lewis, Sebastian Cassarino, Dr. Arturo B. Fallico and Russell Holcomb will be on the panel.

Reading will be by Miss Lewis and Holcomb.

The Symposium is sponsored by the Humanities Club and the ASB Lecture Committee.

the up-to-20-minute waiting lines, and the attitude of some cafeteria personnel."

"We feel it should be our right to take the food with the residence license or to reject the food plan," Willbanks said.

PROPOSED PLANS

More than "freedom to eat" seems at stake.

"Looking at the long-run, proposed plans call for construction of high-rise residence halls with adjoining cafeteria facilities in 1967."

The college must show sufficient demand and volume to warrant as well as repay a federal loan for such construction. The college's prospects for the loan may be jeopardized if it does not return to a mandatory food service program," according to Alan Fritz, IDC president. Fritz said that this is the reasoning behind the IDC's recommendation that dorm residents accept the return for fall 1965.

THREE PROPOSALS

The 12-member IDC considered the proposed plan in special session Monday night and picked three proposals to air for voice votes in the various halls. The trio does not include a "non-mandatory" food service proposal—which appears to be the thorn in the side of pro-optional food-service-plan residents.

At an open, regular Wednesday, 6 p.m., meeting of IDC, results of polling the six dorms on the three proposals will be presented. A show of opposition is predicted, according to Fritz.

Anthropology Expert Visits Tomorrow

"Closing the Generation Gap" will be the topic of Dr. Margaret Mead, well-known woman anthropologist, tomorrow night at 8:15 in Concert Hall. She is a guest of the Visiting Scholar Committee.

Dr. Mead, currently associate curator of ethnology at the American Museum of Natural History, New York City, is well known for her writings on South Sea primitive peoples.

During 1925-26 she held a post doctoral fellowship in the biological sciences of the National Research Council for field work in Samoa.

Since that time she has taken part in other Pacific Island expeditions. Her studies of these cultures have resulted in several widely-read books of cultural, sociological and anthropological value.

During 1942-45 Dr. Mead was executive secretary of the committee on food habits of the National Research Council and a wartime lecturer in Great Britain.

She was director of the Columbia University Research in Contemporary Cultures from 1948-1952 and in 1956-57 she was president of the World Federation for Mental Health.

Working in psychology, Dr. Mead was awarded an M.A. degree in that subject in 1924 and in 1929 received a Ph.D. degree in anthropology, both at Columbia University.

Soggy Salesmen Still Sell; Demand Not Dampened

Sales of the Spring edition of Lyke, SJS feature magazine "have been hurt somewhat because of the rain yesterday," Irv Tiesen, editor of the magazine said, "but demand for the magazine is real."

"Our goal will be reached anyway. With good weather, sales should rise again. Our salesmen's enthusiasm has not been dampened by the rain," Tiesen stated.

Sales of Lyke continue through tomorrow.

Political Science Appointment

Brazil Named Dept. Head

Appointment of Dr. Burton R. Brazil, professor of political science and former mayor of Saratoga, to head the SJS Department of Political Science and Public Administration beginning Sept. 1 is announced by Pres. Robert D. Clark.

Dr. Frederic A. Weed, present head of the department, will begin a sabbatical leave in the fall semester. When he returns from leave he will return to full-time teaching in political science.

Former Mayor Brazil served eight years on the Saratoga City Council but did not run for reelection in 1964. During his political terms he also served as president of the Peninsula division of the League of California Cities, an officer of the Santa Clara County Intercity Council and as a member of the board of directors of County Sanitation District 4. A member of the SJS faculty since 1953, Dr. Brazil taught at the University of Tennessee, Stanford University, the University of Washington and the University of Nevada.

... ex-mayor appointed

After obtaining his B.A. with honors in political science from the University of California at Los Angeles, Dr. Brazil served as a combat Army officer in the South Pacific in World War II. He still holds a U.S. Army Reserve commission as a colonel. Following the war he returned to UCLA for an M.A. degree and later received the Ph.D. from Stanford University.

Dr. Brazil is co-author of "A Citizen's Guide to California Government."

In addition to his teaching assignment at SJS, Dr. Brazil also serves as a member of the executive board of the SJS Academic Council.

ANOTHER SIDE TO THE SELMA CONTROVERSY

One doesn't have to be a "racist" (whatever that means) to see that there is wrong on both sides of the race dispute in Selma, Ala. With reference to the Southern race turmoil in general, former President Harry Truman observed on Sept. 14, 1963: "If the Northern busybodies would stay home and clean up their own backyards, the rest of the country will obey its laws. Those Southerners are anxious to do what the law requires them to do. They want to give equal rights to the Negroes. But nobody is going to make them." (S.J. Mercury, Sept. 16, 1963, p. 11.)

In short it is the outside agitators who are stirring up a lot of the hate in the South. That view was reiterated by a Negro minister who spoke at SJS March 23. San Jose Mayor Joseph Pace visited Selma recently and reported he learned that less than one per cent of those involved in the Selma disorders were citizens of Selma; the rest were outsiders imported by "civil rights" groups.

A view of what happened was expressed by Congressman Jim Martin (R-Alabama): "On the first six days of the extra 10 days allowed for registration only a trickle of applicants showed up, and these were both Negro and white. Then on the seventh day, at a signal a melange of humanity descended on the town and courthouse." This picture was verified by the Selma residents. Martin says it would have been impossible for any community to handle such an overwhelming surge of applicants.

MANY DIDN'T BELONG

Among those hundreds applying to vote at the Dallas County Courthouse, according to Martin, were many already registered, not of age to register, non-residents of Selma or Dallas County or even of Alabama, illiterates who required more than an hour merely to sign their names and children playing hooky from school.

Selma Sheriff Jim Clark has been the target of much abuse in "civil rights" speeches over the past few weeks. "Civil rights" demonstrators have even advocated his arrest.

Gay Terese, Selma news correspondent for the New York Times, reports (San Jose Mercury, March 16, '65, p. 9) that so many threats have been made on Sheriff Clark's life by Negroes that for 10 weeks he has been living with his wife and five young children in the County jail as a necessity of self-protection. If a man under such pressure were moved to resentment against his tormentors I couldn't really blame him.

PICTURE—GOOD VS. EVIL

Discovering that God is not always necessarily on their side may understandably upset some "civil rights" leaders, especially those who paint the Selma picture as a struggle between good and evil. It would seem that while integrating the races, the "civil rights" leaders have erroneously attempted to segregate the guilt—all on the other side.

Dorm Vice-President Expresses Thanks

Editor:

I would like to thank Jeannie Baarts, Bill Beckers, Judie Currie, the Associated Women Students, the Interfraternity Council, and all others who were instrumental in making this year's Sparta Sings such a success.

In two years at Moulder Hall, I never have seen such enthusiasm and spirit as was generated by our participation in Sparta Sings. Our victory cannot but help to solve a problem that all dormitories are faced with—that of creating an atmosphere of pride in one's living center, a feeling of group participation and spirit that usually is regarded as being manifested only by fraternities and sororities.

Being the only independent living center represented in Sparta Sings, we couldn't help but get a feeling of loneliness, but I hope that through our victory we have shown that Sparta Sings is not a Greek monopoly and that all living centers whether independent or not have the opportunity to participate in this worthwhile event.

Most Nations Oppose Radical Changes in U.N. Structure

EDITOR'S NOTE: The recent do-nothing session of the U.N. General Assembly brought demands from all over the world for changes in U.N. structure. This is the second in a two-part series concerning the demanded changes.

By DONALD R. SHANOR
United Press International
UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (UPI)—Most nations are aware of the obstacles to a radical change in the U.N. structure, and go along with interim measures to make it more representative of the great growth in membership since 1945.

The most important of these measures are proposals to expand the Security Council from 11 to 15 members—without an increase in the veto-wielding powers.

Other demands from all over the world for Charter revisions included:

MOSCOW: The Soviet Union objects to the strengthened role of the General Assembly in peace keeping matters.

WASHINGTON: The United States is disappointed with the assembly's failure to support it on the issue of Russia's right to vote. But it has not given up on the Assembly's role in authorizing peace missions when the council is powerless to act. LONDON: Britain's Labor government wants to strengthen the organization in every possible way. It does not consider France's five-power summit proposal a good way to settle the issue.

It seeks instead to increase the U.N. peace keeping power in other ways.

OSLO: Scandinavia also has put men and money on the table to bring about stronger peace missions. Norway combines this operation with a call for the big powers to show more restraint in the council.

HONG KONG: The best guesses on the attitude of Communist China say that Peking is determined to break up the United Nations, if necessary, to defeat the United States, which it regards as the controlling power in the organization.

TOKYO: Prime Minister Eisaku Sato said recently that there is no present need for an outright revision of the charter—if the big powers would work in the security council so there would be no veto paralysis.

MANILA: The Philippines has a different conception of the veto. Foreign Minister Mauro Mendez, a U.N. veteran believes the council veto should be abolished because "the small nations have been frustrated by the veto power."

ALGIERS: Algeria is torn between its role as a small nation and its friendship for the Soviet Union. On the one hand, it wants a stronger assembly. On the other, it does not seek the abolition of the veto.

DAKAR: Senegal believes the problem could be solved for both small and large nations by adding 50 members to the security council.

MUN Chairman Pleased About Rally

Editor:

As chairman of Model United Nations, it has been my desire to see that students at San Jose State become interested in and aware of the happenings around them.

On Friday, along with about 4,000 other students (my own estimate), I saw SJS emerge from its apathy with a tremendous roar.

At what I feel was the most fantastic thing ever to hit this campus, a new group made its initial appearance. The group, Students for Excellence in Education (SEE) was a huge success. SEE members demonstrated that the SJS student is not apathetic; more important, they proved that there is an issue of vital concern to us all that the students are doing something about.

Sports Results

SWIMMING

The SJS frosh swimmers trounced San Jose City College 60-35 last week as the Spartababes won nine of the 11 events in their final meet of the season.

A new freshman record of 3:57.8 was set in the 400 yard medley relay. The relay team members were Ted Mathewson, Dennis Kocjan, Mark Petersen, and Jerry Atkinson.

Outstanding performances were John Kocal's 22.8 50 yard dash, and 51.4 100, a lifetime best. Bill Anderson won the diving with 196.75 points, also a lifetime best. Steve Hoberg's 2:09.8 butterfly was one of his best times of the season. Other good performances were registered by Mike Allen, Steve Boyer, John Olsen, Mike McLennan, and Al Forest.

"This is the strongest freshman team SJS has had in a long time," said coach John Rutherford.

TRACK

Bob Akers, whose 171 foot discus toss defeated U.C.'s Don Schmidt and broke the meet record (Schmidt was third and Akers was fourth in the nation last year) at Cal Saturday, was named Northern California field man of the week and Tom Smith was track man of the week.

Other placers in the meet not mentioned in yesterday's story were Bob Baughman, 218-6, and Bob Brown, 208, who were second and third respectively in the javelin. Roger Werne was second in the pole vault at 14-7.

JUDO

The Spartan judo team, coached by head SJS judo coach, Yosh Uchida, traveled to Alameda High School, Alameda, Calif., Sunday, where they entered the City of Alameda Invitational Judo Tournament.

In brown belt matches, Roger Miller won one and drew one. Mike Rogers had a draw. Art Honda took one match, but drew in another. Bruce Brown fought to a draw.

Fred Heron chalked up one win and then had a draw. Will Colson had one draw. Bob Benson won one match and lost one match. Joe Yabumoto and Robert Rice both drew.

Sole placer in the Black Belt competition was Spartan Jay Lewis, who gained second position.

TENNIS

The varsity netmen play their second of four matches this week when they play host to Stanford at 2:30 p.m. today on the Spartan Courts.

The Spartababes dropped a 7-1 decision last week to the highly rated San Francisco City College. John Preston, recruited by coach Butch Krikorian from his gym classes just prior to the season, registered the only victory.

GYMNASTICS

Rich Chew, who placed 10th in the side horse in the NCAA championships had his best performance of the season, according to coach Clair Jennett. Chew placed higher than three of the four men that placed ahead of him at the NCAA Western Regionals at SJS. The Spartababes defeated Ygnacio Valley 78-63 last week for their third straight win. Tony Coppola was first in five of the six all-around events and was second in the free exercise. Malcolm McPhee won the trampoline and tumbling and captured several seconds.

WATER POLO

The winner of yesterday's reversal event in the decathlon was Mike Hansen. His 24 reversals were only two under the school record set two years ago by Jim Spear.

Three freshmen, Gregg Swan, Steve Hoberg and Mike McLennan, tied for second place.

Clutch Single in 10th Edges St. Mary's, 10-9

Tony Hernandez hit a bases-loaded single in the bottom of the 10th inning yesterday afternoon at Municipal Stadium to give San Jose State a 10-9 come-from-behind win over St. Mary's College.

Relief pitcher Gary Strom, who was credited with the win, tied the game in the 10th with an infield single which scored Larry Myers from third.

St. Mary's relief pitcher Rich Hughlett almost walked in the winning run as he was behind Hernandez 3-0.

"Coach (Ed) Sobczak has always told us to swing at a 3-0 pitch if it was good," Hernandez said after the game, "but even though a fly ball could have scored the runner, I decided to take the next pitch."

Hughlett came in with a strike and Tony teed off on the next pitch and rammed it through to center field to score the winning run.

First baseman Paul Penny got the Spartans off and running in the first inning as he scored Pat Duggan from first on a booming double to right field. The Spartans scored three runs in the first, and were leading 3-2 when they touched St. Mary's pitcher Mike Adams for two more runs in the sixth.

Physicals

All varsity football candidates are reminded by head coach Harry Anderson that today and tomorrow are the last days to take physical examinations. The examinations will be given from 1 to 4 p.m. at the south campus.

DREAM DIAMOND RINGS

For love's sake any girl would accept even an ordinary engagement ring—squat-looking, uninspiring. But, in her heart, she hopes for an extraordinary ring which will compel the admiration of all.

ArtCarved Dream Diamond Rings are extraordinary. Shunning the excessive metal and gingerbread of ordinary rings they delight the modern eye. Pure in form, elegantly sculptured, they express the taste of our time.

Keep this ad for comparison! See our new styles at your ArtCarved jeweler before you decide. Each from $150. For free illustrated folder write to ArtCarved, Dept. C, 216 East 45th Street, New York, N. Y. 10017.

SEE Petition Gains Support

An initiative circulated by Students for Excellence in Education (SEE) has over 1,800 signatures, according to Ira Meltzer, SEE spokesman.

The initiative, to be sent to the California State Legislature, asks that a new section be added to Article IX of the State Constitution.

The initiative reads: "It is the policy of this state to make higher education of superior quality available to every qualified resident at public expense."

"No charge or fee for tuition or for instructional services or facilities or otherwise in the nature of tuition shall ever be levied upon or collected from students of the University of California or from students of any of the California State Colleges."

"Nothing in this section shall be construed to forbid levy and collection of any of the following:

"A. From the students using such services or facilities, reasonable fees or charges based on cost for non-instructional services and facilities such as meals, housing and parking;

"B. From every student, fees for health services and student body fees not exceeding those in effect on January 1, 1965, including all fees provided for by any contract or commitment for construction of a College Union made or entered into before that date."

Co-Rec Calls Easter Treat 'Hoppin' Bop'

Co-Rec presents the "Hoppin' Bop" tonight from 7:30 to 9:45 in the PER Building and Women's Gym.

Activities include: volleyball, badminton, basketball, table tennis, chess, bridge, shuffleboard, dancing and swimming. The special event will be a "rabbit drawing" with a prize going to the winner.

Music for the dancing will be provided by the "Rhythm Kings," a rock and roll band from San Jose.

Admission is free, but limited to ASB card holders only.
